THE HYAKEM 1942

FOREWORD

With a tired smile, a sigh, and the feeling of a big job done, the HYA-KEM staff puts this book into your hands and say, "Here are your memories of '41-'42 done up in picture and story form."

Surely, the war has put a shadow over us for the time being. Nevertheless, the staff hopes that by helping you to recall your happy moments at CWC it can make 1942 a brighter year to remember.

The coming of winter brings beautiful scenes such as the Arts & Science Building as viewed from the tennis courts.

FACULTY

PRESIDENT
McCONNELL SPEAKS:

This college year has presented to us the end of an era and the beginning of a new and even more strenuous era in our beloved United States of America. Society is eagerly awaiting our graduates of 1942. You, of this year's class, will find much to challenge you. Your college training, I predict, will be of great value not only to you but also to our State and Nation. First, you must do your part during a deadly struggle to make it possible for right to prevail over wrong. Secondly, you will be needed in the reconstruction period following the war. Both periods call for planning, sacrifice, hard work, and sound judgment. May the education and philosophy that you have acquired here be the proper instruments for placing and keeping you in positions of leadership and worthy service. With you, when you leave the campus, go my best wishes for good fortune and success.

ROBERT E. McCONNELL,
President

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS

"Students should be enabled to govern themselves." This has been the text of the administration of President Roy Patrick Wahle; it is a text which has evidenced itself in every accomplishment and project of the student government this year.

More than ever before representative students have participated in planning activities or in attempting to solve problems concerned with student life at CWC. Student committees have considered student discipline, schedules, extra-curricular policies, war efforts, and so on. The true importance of democratic student government has been emphasized by the tremendous implications of the new student constitution.

Numerous projects have resulted from Council activity despite the curtailment of the budget which has resulted from decreased enrollment due to the current war.

THE ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

It is traditional that the Associated Women Students sponsor certain activities of the year on the campus. Among these are the welcoming teas given at the opening of fall quarter for students and faculty, a Christmas Tea at the close of the same quarter, a get-acquainted fireside at the beginning of the year, the Snow Ball (with a ski lodge theme this year), Mother's Week End during spring quarter, and the mixers each month for all girls.

This year the AWS proposed a few new ideas in addition to the usual events. Among these were the Big Sister Movement which was carried out by the lyoptians, honor society sponsored by the AWS. The lyoptians also planned weekly firesides for the new girls.

For the first time, the women had a welcoming assembly followed by quarterly AWS assemblies throughout the year.

The feminine touch was added to Open House this year by the offering of prizes for the most attractive rooms in the dormitories for both men and women.

During winter quarter, Hello Walk reminded some people on the campus that other people are going to school here too.

And finally, a Scholarship Award in the form of a mahogany plaque was presented this year by the AWS to the women's residence group with the highest grade average. It is hoped that the presentation of this award will stimulate enthusiasm for higher scholastic standards. The plaque will be awarded each quarter of the ensuing years, and the names of the residence groups winning it will be engraved on the silver plate.

SENIOR CLASS

With less than seventy members on its rolls the Senior Class of 1942 claimed the most active year for that level in the history of the college. Late in January the class sponsored a Red Cross Benefit Dance with Social Commissioner Wilson as organizing chairman.

Instituting Class Day activities, the Seniors added a new feature to Commencement Week. Program plans included official recognition of the service of Mr. Harold Barto, who had served as adviser of the class through its four years of college life. Added color was furnished when the class wore caps and gowns on the campus the final day of school, suggesting the establishment of another college tradition.

As one strolls around the Central Washington College campus he is sure to encounter many such groups of students, as pictured above. These pictures are typical of student life at CWC. At mail time students congregate in the hall of the Administration building, and read their mail and chat with other students. Balloting has been frequent this year as many polls of student opinion have been taken. Leaving the familiar hallway of the Ad building, and going down stairs, one is certain to see dance classes in full swing, as Miss Kane's classes have proven very popular this year. Then continuing across the campus one sees various athletic programs in evidence.

JUNIOR CLASS

The activity highlight for the Junior Class this year was the Barn-Dance, making a sensation by the use of the Sadie Hawkins' theme. This annual event took place during winter quarter. Huge murals painted on the walls depicted Skunk Hollow, which was the setting for the dance. The large attendance at the dance proved its popularity.

During spring quarter the class sponsored a theater party for its members. All in all, the Junior Class, through its many prominent members, has indeed made a name for itself on the CWC Campus this year.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Highlighting this year's social calendar was the Cupid's Informal, sponsored on Valentine's Day by the Sophomore Class. The title and the date express the theme that was used. A large attendance and the many expressions of a good time have proved it to be one of the most successful dances of the year.

Mary Alice Phelps was elected council representative to replace Bette Fletcher, who was unable to return winter quarter.

On such warm spring days many such students can be found strolling throughout the campus, telling one another what they have just seen or heard.

FRESHMAN CLASS

And so it came about, on that fateful fall of 1941, that another, greener Frosh class was to enter the portals of CWC. Taking one look, the Ad Building groaned just a little louder, and settled two feet further in terra firma, preparing for a hard winter. Before the plebes could tell the library from the dining hall, it was Homecoming, and time for the class to build the annual fire; after overcoming many odds presented by the "Sophs," the show went on, and those thousands that came to see the bonfire were not at all disappointed in seeing a spectacle surpassed only by the World's Fair itself.

A Hard-Times Party, amid rags and bread line columns climaxed the fall quarter's activities.

A picnic in the spring for the Seniors put an end to the activities of the class of '45. So we'll leave them peacefully eating sandwiches and cake amid the ants and upperclassmen, seasoned veterans looking forward to giving advice to the neophytes of '41.

The College Elementary School is an ideal school.
In the College Elementary School, students, student teachers, and classroom teachers work together.

EDUCATION

CWC is very fortunate in being one of the two higher institutions of learning in the state to be able to offer a complete CPT course. Many of the students of CWC are enrolled in this course, and have successfully completed the primary and secondary courses. The pictures above depict somewhat the CPT course as it is offered at CWC.

CWC "KEEPS 'EM FLYING"

Completion of the second year of CPT (Civilian Pilot Training) at Central, shows that over one hundred students have received their wings. During the fall quarter of 1941, fourteen air-minded students enrolled in the aviation program and completed their training in February. In the spring of 1942, thirteen more enrolled for this training which will be completed in June.

Upon completion of the primary flying program, the students have the further advantage of enrolling in the new secondary program which was introduced in March.

This advanced training is in larger planes and includes all of the required army acrobatic maneuvers, besides a continuation of ground school.

The Ellensburg Municipal Airport is serving as the home base for the training planes. Instructing the primary class are Bud Carter, Bob Kelly and Ray Strange. The secondary students are under supervision of Everett Lindquist from the Tacoma Flying Service. Ground-school Instructor is Dr. W. W. Newschwander of the Science Department, and Mac Anderson is Airport Manager.

Construction of the new airport will be completed about July 1. Paved runways 4500 feet long, a new lighting system, and wide taxiing strips will be only a few of the improvements which are to be added. The completion of the project will place Ellensburg in an important position to "Keep 'Em Flying."

Ilene Wood and Joyce Light are just two of the many student teachers of CWC. They are very fortunate in being able to gain experience in a modern school, such as the College Elementary School staff maintains. Students may also teach at the Washington School and at the Morgan Junior High School, and thus experience teaching at various levels and in different situations.

EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY

This is one of the most important departments in the school, as this college is primarily a teacher-training institution. Faculty members of this department include Miss Hebel, Miss Simpson, Miss Anderson, Dr. Muzzall, Mr. Thompson, Mr. Stephens, Dr. Sparks, Dr. Coffey, and Dr. Samuelson. These people teach education, philosophy, and psychology courses. In addition to these people, the teaching staff at the College Elementary School supervises student teaching.

All students attending CWC who are planning to become teachers must at some time or another take courses in education, psychology, and philosophy. The education courses involve such classes as State Law, Curriculum, Methods, Tests and Measurements, and Education I. General and Child Psychology are courses required of students planning to teach. And although Mr. Stephens' philosophy classes may be required, they are generally accepted as courses that must be taken to really have experienced college life at CWC.

Central Washington College's Placement Bureau is under the supervision of Dr. E. E. Samuelson, and is recognized as one of the finest in the state. Not all students realize how much is done for them through this department, but if they would stop and consider they would realize that the percentage of placements ranks very high when compared to other higher institutions of learning.

In the future students will be required to attend school for four years, and thus have a degree and be equipped for Elementary and Junior High School teaching before graduating.

FINE AND APPLIED ARTS

Students interested in Applied Arts are given numerous opportunities to develop their talents at CWC. During the past year enrollment in Applied Arts classes has increased considerably. Mr. Hogue and Mr. Sogge supervise the activities and offer criticisms and suggestions to the struggling students.

ARC WELDING OR ELECTRIC WELDING

MACHINE LATHE OR METAL LATHE

These pictures show students at work in arc-welding and at the machine lathe. This training prove invaluable in the teaching and industrial fields. With the increased emphasis upon creative work in the elementary schools, teachers with this experience find jobs easily.

INDUSTRIAL ART DEPARTMENT

Included in the Industrial Art Department are pottery, crafts, woodworking, photography, and metallurgy. Art I is a required preliminary course for each of the above courses.

Pottery gives persons with creative ability the opportunity to apply this creativeness to such things as dishes, vases, bowls, and ornamental lapel pins. In this phase of Industrial Art, slip casting and spinning on the wheel give the students a varied experience in making things from clay. Mixing clay, making their own glazes, and developing original ideas are merely part of the activities of the class. Decorating and originating designs and forms have been some of the major problems.

Crafts is one of the most popular courses in the Industrial Art Department. This course gives great opportunity for creativeness. Tooling, burning, lacing, sewing, cutting, a little welding, soldering, woodwork, and metal work are the experiences encountered in the Crafts class. Everything from coin purses to wooden shoes is made.

Those persons interested in furniture or any other object made of wood are offered a course to instruct them and improve their skill in woodworking. Classes are conducted both in planning and in carrying out plans for articles. There are two courses—one for the beginning woodworker and one for the advanced student of woodworking. Many unique and interesting things come from this course. Everything from book ends and trays to furniture of polished perfection are planned and completed throughout the quarter.

Two courses in photography, also, are offered—one for the beginning and one for the advanced photographer. Developing, printing, enlarging, and mounting play a small part in the course. Those interested in this course must not only do all of this, but they find out the whys, whats, and wherefores of the cameras and films. Some of the pictures put into the year-book are taken and prepared by the advanced photography students.

Metallurgy draws the attention of those persons interested in metals of any kind. They experiment with all the available metals and carry out their own plans. This course is limited because of the shortage of metals, but some very fine work has come out of this course.

Exhibits from all of the above courses are displayed in the halls of the Arts and Science Building and in the Administration Building. Many fine pieces of work can be seen in these exhibits.

The Industrial Art Department is closely connected with the Fine Art Department.

The Fine Arts department of CWC offers a great variety of courses, as can be seen in these pictures. Students who have attended CWC and who have taken advantage of its Art Department have been recognized as individuals of considerable ability. Much credit for the fine department is due to the capable instruction of Mr. Randall, Miss Spurgeon, and Miss Walters.

ART DEPARTMENT

Through the endeavors of the faculty of the Fine Arts Department, its reputation has spread far and wide. Displaying remarkable technique in exhibits, individual work, and class murals, the Art Department has brought to a close another successful year.

The classes in sculpturing, commercial design, oil painting, Art I, and others, have provided many worthwhile opportunities for students to find hidden and unforeseen talents as well as enjoyment.

Two former students of the CWC Art Department, John Keal and Don Reppeto, staged one-man exhibits of their paintings. The latter is the recipient of a Carnegie Scholarship in the field of painting.

A collection of twelve beautiful pieces of sculpture by contemporary American sculptors has been secured and is available to all students.

Exhibits are continuously shown in the main halls, in the display cabinets, and in the Pink Room.

Contests in many phases of Art are held each quarter. The annual poster contest on Cancer was held in winter quarter, with Jean Johnson winning first prize of $20, and Hal Chambers winning second prize with $10. Ida Kehl won honorable mention.

DRAMA

The Drama Department this year had one of its most active and interesting years. The first play to be produced by Mr. Russell W. Lembke on his return from a year's leave of absence was the summer production of "Ladies in Retirement." This fine mystery, noted for its excellent character studies, had in the cast: Kathleen Kelleher, Evelyn Detty, Mildred Martinson, Alice Carol Woods, Alice McLean, and Lloyd Mitchell.

"Mr. and Mrs. North," a comedy-mystery adapted by Owen Davis, was the first of the school year. It concerns the plight of a pleasant young couple when they discover a very cold corpse in their wine closet. The actors who took these two parts were Joyce Light and Jack Palmer. Others in the cast were: John Pickens, Althea Manley, Don Drysdale, Larry White, Cornelia Anderson, Leslie Loschen, Jack Lusk, George Maneff, Jean Richards, Kenneth Trimble, Victor Guns, Victor Forsythe, John Chambers, Wayne Waddington, Gregory Fitzgerald, Dean Gordanier, Vern Dean, Douglas Vanderpool, and Everett Jacobs.

During the winter quarter a cast of thirty, one of the largest casts ever directed here, presented "Family Portrait," a story of the family of Jesus. Taking the main roles were Delores Plath as Mary, mother of Jesus, Jean Richards as Mary Cleophas, Leslie Loschen as Judas, Don Drysdale as James, Dick Ellison, as Judas, Wayne Waddington, as Joseph, and Oliver Schell as Simon.

Mr. Alderson is seen singing

Students feel free to use the
Mirrophone at any time

Mr. Alderson is a new member of the faculty, and has proved to be a very popular one. His ballads have afforded the student body much entertainment, as well as educating it in the art of balladry. To his balladry class this picture of Mr. Alderson playing his guitar and singing a ballad is a familiar one.

In the speech department, the addition of the Mirrophone had proved to be of much help. This instrument can be used to good advantage in all phases of the English Department.

LANGUAGE, LITERATURE AND SPEECH

This department includes all literature classes, French classes, English mechanics, speech and dramatics. Two new features in the department this year are Mr. William Alderson's Balladry class, and the Mirrophone in Mr. Nelson's Corrective Speech activities.

Mr. Alderson's class is a popular one. The work on ballads consists of a study of English and Scottish ballads, a study of their origins, variations and styles. The students learn to sing the ballads and also to play guitar accompaniments if they wish. Mr. Alderson sings the ballads with a guitar accompaniment, and has presented several programs since coming to CWC. Balladry is a subject which has become increasingly important in the past few years, and is yet, rather a novelty in college.

Mr. Nelson does a great amount of corrective speech work both through his own individual work and through that of his student speech teachers. He was able to make his work much more effective as well as much simpler when the department acquired the Mirrophone, a device for recording the speech of an individual, and for repeating the speech back to the individual. In this way the student can hear, recognize and correct his own errors and deficiencies in his speaking technique.

The college choir has done much in the past four years to advertise the school. This year it sang before as many as 22,700 people, in addition to its radio broadcasts. Much of its success is due to the very capable directing of Mr. Hertz, head the Music Department. One of the major projects of the Music Department this year was the presentation of the "Elijah." Miss Francis Yeend of Pullman, Washington was the guest soprano soloist, and was accompanied by the Community Chorus and the college choir. Mr. Moe at the pipe-organ, two pianos, and the college orchestra served as a an instrumental background for the "Elijah."

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Under the direction of Mr. Wayne S. Hertz, the a cappella choir made up of sixty voices has ranked as one of the leading choirs of the state. Wherever it appeared it was received with a great deal of enthusiasm and appreciation. The choir has been active in various school performances throughout the year.

Extensive traveling has been done by the this group, from the lower Yakima to the upper Wenatchee Valley. This group also successfully toured the coast for five days, singing in numerous high schools and churches. Several short trips were made to the neighboring high schools to give the smaller schools a chance to hear the better type of choral music performed by a capable organization.

Under Mr. Hertz's skillful guidance, and with the members of the choir cooperating to the fullest extent, this choir has been recognized as a group comparable to the best.

MALE QUARTET

Larry White, Don Drysdale, Lowell Evans, and Bill Ames, second tenor, second bass, first bass and first tenor, respectively caused much commotion in all the high schools visited. All who were privileged to hear this group were captivated by their humorous selections. To Mr. Hertz goes the credit for the organization of this foursome.

TRUMPET TRIO

Central Washington College's terrific trumpet player, Mr. William Dennis, formerly of Green Bay, Wisconsin, very successfully organized a trumpet trio composed of himself, Evelyn Johnson, and Keith Hickey. This triple-tonguing trio proved to be very popular on the choir trips, (with its classical and jazz arrangements of well known compositions).

Mr. William Dennis added color and new ideas to the band this year. He will most certainly be remembered for his brilliant trumpet playing. The college orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Milton Steinhardt, may have been small in number this year, but was certainly good in quality. Clifton Alford, Helen Owen, Mary White, and Dolores Plath, members of the college string quartet, played at various programs through the year.

BAND

Mr. Dennis, capable cornetist and director, with his colorful and popular band has been an outstanding feature of the college. The band has established itself as one of the best in the state for its size. In the fall it performed at all the football games and in the winter added pep to the basket ball games. In addition to these numerous performances, each quarter the band gave a concert displaying its technique in concert music for the benefit of the students and towns people. In every appearance the band was received with great enthusiasm.

Traveling to the lower valley, the band gave several concerts for various high schools, in which a variety of numbers were presented to appreciative audiences.

THE COLLEGE ORCHESTRA

The CWC symphony orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Milton Steinhardt, maintained its usual position in the foreground of musical entertainment during the 1941-1942 season. The orchestra's initial performance was for one of the regular CWC broadcasts over KIT early in the fall quarter.

In November the orchestra, with the band, was featured in an AS assembly. The final performance of the season was on March 13, when the group accompanied the choir in a presentation of Mendelssohn's "Elijah."

STRING ENSEMBLE

The string ensemble, composed of Dolores Plath, Mary White, Helen Owen, and Clifton Alford, and under the direction of Mr. Milton Steinhardt, presented itself very favorably in the eyes of music lovers. The group participated in several musical entertainments during the year.

The radio class as offered by Mr. Nelson has been proving very popular. Students are given a chance to prepare radio scripts, record programs, participate in actual broadcasts, time scripts, and acquire a speaking knowledge of radio, its terms, and its colloquialisms.

RADIO

Running hand-in-hand with the weekly radio program, a new class, namely, radio workshop, was initiated this year at CWC. Professor Oliver Nelson has guided it through such notable features as the story of Kamiakan, the story of water power, and the story of salmon, along with programs by the choir, orchestra, and band.

The course consists of a study of news broadcasting, writing of musical scripts, writing of general scripts, and general knowledge of radio techniques.

During winter quarter the radio workshop put on the story of Kamiakan, which was written by the fall quarter radio workshop. The presentation of this script was undoubtedly the most successful put on. Princess Wack Wack from Toppenish was guest of honor, giving a reading in which she disclosed some intimate facts of Indian life and folklore.

In the presentation of a program at least ten hours of practice is needed for a half-hour script, and at least four programs are put on by the radio workshop a quarter.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

The Science and Mathematics Departments are composed of the following faculty members: Miss Dean, Mr. Beck, Mr. Blackwood, Dr. Lind, Mr. Marsh, Dr. Newschwander, and Mr. Quigley.

Courses in Science, Geology, Botany, General Forestry, Taxonomy of Plants, Ecology, Inorganic Chemistry, Qualitative Analysis, Quantative Analysis, Organic Chemistry, Physics, Anatomy, Bacteriology, Organic Evolution, Ornithology, Paleobotany, Paleontology, Trigonometry, Calculus, and Mathematics of Statistics are offered.

Students majoring in Science and Mathematics may prepare for nursing, engineering and other fields, as well as the teaching field.

All students preparing to teach are required to take an Orientation Course in Science and Environmental Studies. While many students fail to see benefit reaped while actually taking these courses, at some time or another they are sure to find a need and a value for these courses.

One of the outstanding things the department is doing is preparing students for CPT courses. Dr. Newschwander should be congratulated for the help he has given the authorities in charge of the CPT courses in Ellensburg.

SOCIAL SCIENCE AND HISTORY

In the afternoons behind the Classroom building, Dean Holmes, Dr. Shaw, Mr. Gorter, Mr. Odell, and Dr. Carstensen relax and have a smoke. This gathering of the intellectual heads of the Social Science and History Departments presents a familiar scene.

SOCIAL SCIENCE AND HISTORY

Whether Freshman or Senior, social science or history major, or casual student, all Central Washington students are at one time or another introduced to the Social Science and History Department.

As some knowledge of social institutions and their problems are regarded as essential to students, orientation courses in sociology and economics are given. For those who wish to go further in this field, various courses in social sciences are offered.

The Social Science Department lists courses in government, economics, politics, and anthropology. In this department are the following professors: Mr. O. H. Holmes, Mr. Seldom Smyser, Mr. Wytze Gorter and Mr. Elwyn Odell.

History majors and minors in CWC never have to worry whether they will find sufficient courses to fill out required credits. Almost every phase of European and world history is offered in the various courses, and the development of United States history is completely covered.

The professors in the History Department include Dr. Vernon Carstensen, Mr. Harold Barto, Miss Helen Minerva Elworthy, and Mr. Francis Wiley.

WOMEN'S P. E.

The Women's Physical Education Department of CWC offers a great variety of courses, as can be seen from these pictures. Such tennis players as Barbara Lum and Mary Bowman make tennis a very popular sport. Archery is offered for both men and women, and is greatly enjoyed by both.

SKIRTS IN SPORTS

Last autumn when you found yourself in a regulation suit stretching for that volleyball, high bird, or ball you were probably too engrossed to give a thought to the unseen power that offered all this for your entertainment and educational development . . . the physical education department, which provided the volleyball, badminton, and tennis equipment. A laurel wreath to instructors Miss Puckett, Miss Horne, and Miss Kane for showing us how it should be done according to Hoyle, and to the department for being one of the few smaller college departments that offers this daily workout.

Out on the range the campus Dianas shoot with an accuracy prompted by memories of how difficult arrows are to find in the range turf.

"Allemand left" will always automatically produce a familiar gesture . . . a hangover from American dance for those who have taken it—and who hasn't? Incidentally you should have noticed how gracefully Miss Kane relinquished the idea of putting up curtains on the dance studio windows after she discovered that the dance classes were callous to curious stares.

Now you can smile at the distaste you experienced when you found out that Dance I is done in leotards and with bare feet, and when the roommate came home autumn quarter groaning you decided that winter quarter would be impossible for you.

WOMEN'S P. E.

Mr. Nicholson finds time each spring to teach a class for beginning golfers. Students may practice the game at the golf links as well as on the campus. Another interesting feature of the Women's Physical Education Department this year has been the variety of dance courses taught by Miss Kane.

SKIRTS IN SPORTS

During winter quarter, archery and tennis were replaced by clogging and tumbling. In the former the point was first to concentrate on the footwork and then to take the eyes off it. In the latter one finds that it is possible to dive over several people and not get hurt.

When spring quarter blew in, tennis and archery returned to the activity schedule, Lum and Haba returned to court and range, and something new was added . . . Mary Jane Gilkey and golf . . . just another game where it is possible to make a hit by "swinging it" . . . and she knows the combination. Spring quarter also brought out the top sergeant in Celeste Hayden . . . did you hear her recruiting a softball team?

After taking several of these interesting activities and deciding to be a physical education major and minor you discovered that such people were expected to take "catology," Science 80 in the schedule of classes.

The gauntlet of theory and practice courses were just the thing to give you that pseudo-professional polish and mastery of the vernacular. Just forget that you weren't at all like Liszt, the "Redheads," nor de Kruif.

A vote of thanks to Coach Nicholson for his valuable courses and helpful attitude towards women's athletics . . . to Coaches Sarboe and Kebric, credit where credit is due for assistance in this department.

Coaches Nicholson and Sarboe

NEW COACHING STAFF

Phil Sarboe, former Washington State grid star, came to CWC last fall to take over Leo Nicholson's duties as head football coach when "Nick" became athletic director. Sarboe introduced a new offense to the Wildcat gridders. This system was a combination of the T and Notre Dame formations with design for speed and deception. With only a handful of returning lettermen and a small squad of freshmen and transfers, Sarboe had a tough task before him. George Mabee, assistant coach, left for the army early in October and was replaced by Burt Kebric, a graduate of the University of California.

FOOTBALL

The Cats opened their '42 grid campaign with an easy 13-0 victory over the Gonzaga Frosh on the Rodeo Field in a non-conference battle.

On the following Wednesday the WWC Vikings came to town and scored a 19-13 win over the CWC gridders. Carmody, aided by some fine downfield blocking, raced 67 and 83 yards for both of the Wildcats scores.

In their first conference game the Cats were held to a scoreless tie by St. Martin's in Olympia. They shoved the Rangers all over the field but failed to score.

The 1941 Homecoming game was colorfully opened with the dedication of Tomlinson Field in honor of the late Jack Tomlinson, captain of the 1940 grid squad. The Cats played great ball for three and a half quarters, but in the closing minutes of the fourth and final quarter the Cheney Savages broke loose with two long runs to score and win the game 7-0.

The St. Martin's Rangers handed the Cats a 20-0 defeat the following Saturday on Tomlinson Field in a king's-x affair.

The big game of the year for the Cats was played at Parker Field on November 7. It proved to be a real battle with Tommervik and Co. finally winning 20 to 7. Despite the score the Cats played their best game of the year.

In the closing gridiron battle of the 1942 season the Cats lost 19 to 7 to Bellingham in the latter's Homecoming game.

Despite the final showing in the win and loss column the Cats showed good prospects for the future. Next year's grid team should be a contender for the conference title, providing Uncle Sam doesn't call too many of the boys into service.

PLAYERS

1. Russ Wiseman—All conference forward and leading scorer.
2. L. G. Carmody—Connects with baskets when most needed; another all-conference player.
3. Ernie Lewis—One of the best backboard men in the conference.
4. Jack Hubbard—Best ball handler and floor man on the squad.
Team captain.
5. Jim Adamson—Good ball handler and defense man.
6. Jake Morrow—Good defense man and good shot.
7. Don Harney—Played good games in the pivot spot.
8. Mike Kuchera—Good backboard man and short shot.
9. Harvey Vaughn—Good relief man at guard.

BASKETBALL

While Central Washington College didn't have the smoothest club in the Winco league this year, but it did have one of the most spectacular. Ours was the highest scoring team, not only in the Winco league, but in the entire history of the school's participation in basketball.

With only two lettermen, L. G. Carmody and Jack Hubbard, returning from the Wildcat "41" contenders, Coach Nicholson built up a fairly strong team, with freshmen and transfer students filling in the vacancies. To replace Don Sorenson, "41" all-conference star, Coach Nicholson used Russ Wiseman, sophomore transfer from the University of Washington, who in the course of a year landed an all-conference berth and broke the foul shooting record. The other vacancies were alternately filled by Jim Adamson, Chehalis freshman, Jake Morrow, Yakima Junior College transfer, Mike Kuchera, and Ernie Lewis—both transfers from the University of Washington. With most of these boys expected back next year, CWC should have a good season.

WILDCATS-RANGER SERIES

Their first trial by fire found the CWC hoopsters outshooting and outplaying the Rangers. The opening series held in Ellensburg saw the Wildcats cop both Friday and Saturday games 57-44 and 54-41. The series played at Lacey, however, was a little tougher. The first game CWC won 72-69 in two overtime periods, and again finding their eye the second night, they defeated the Rangers 52-45.

CHENEY SERIES

Outplayed the first two games at Cheney and losing 49-39 and 57-36, the local players made it a little tougher for the Savages when the two teams met on the local floor, the Cheney team winning by just four points the first night and three the second. The scores were 46-42 and 45-42. This made the first time a Nicholson coached team ever lost four straight to Cheney.

BELLINGHAM SERIES

Playing in Bellingham, the Wildcats dropped two games to the Vikings, 50-45 and 53-49. A week later on the local floor CWC dropped the Vikings 47-44, only to lose the second night 57-44 and thus end with second place tie with the Vikings.

PLC SERIES

This season found the Wildcats taking three for four from the Gladiators. The opening game in Tacoma saw CWC better the defending champs 60-36. In the second game, however, PLC came back and dumped the locals 50-39. The two games played here on the college floor were practice games for the Wildcats, CWC winning 65-36 and 67-38.

Coach Nicholson produced the highest scoring basketball squad in the history of the school and even if they were a little rough in spots they ended the season in a tie for second place. However, all the credit doesn't belong to the regulars and the coach, because Roy Merk, Jim Craig, Wayne Drysdale and Mike Mignacco, who never played in a conference game, turned out every night giving the regulars their practice. Much of the credit CWC won is due to these boys.

ON THE CINDERS

Mustering together the best squad of tracksters seen on the local campus since the Wildcats marched off with the Winco track title back in 1938, Coaches Phil Sarboe and Burt Kebrie—both new to CWC—have brought the Wildcats to the fore in 1942 track circles. Showing amazing speed in every event, the Wildcats ran bearshod over all early season opposition.

Pat Martin headed the list of veterans which included such stellar performers as Hal Berndt, Tommy Bridges, L. G. Carmody, Earl Bach, and Vern Dean. The Wildcats were blessed with a number of talented newcomers such as Maury Rogers, Bob Lynn, Ernie Lewis, Gil Baker, Russ Wiseman, Mike Kuchera, Hank Oechsner, Fred McDow, and Howard Hartman.

ON THE CINDERS

Pacing the Wildcats were sprinters Berndt and Rogers and distanceman Lynn. Berndt swept the century event with fast times of 9.9 and 10 seconds flat, while Rogers, a freshman from Grandview, turned in near record times in the 220 and 440 yard dash. Lynn, transfer from the University of Washington, took all honors in the mile run and then jumped over to the half mile and two mile to add to his individual total.

Martin, Lewis, and Baker took care of the hurdle events; Berndt, Rogers, Bridges, and Hartman, the sprints; Lynn, Bach, and Dean, the distances; McDow, the high jump and pole vault; Carmody, the broad jump; Wiseman and Kuchera, the weights; and Oechsner, the javelin. Many of these boys confined their talents to several events and gave CWC two- and threefold power in every event.

TENNIS

With the largest turnout in the history of the school, Coach Nicholson's racquet wielders continued to carry on the highly established varsity tennis program at CWC. Ray Whitfield held down number one position on the ladder. Ray Breedlove filled position number two, followed by Joe Clayton in spot number three. Jim Spaulding and Lowell Evans filled positions number four and five respectively. Completing the ladder were Wendell Hildebrand, John Gilmore, Sture Larrson, Chuck Wilson, Kerwin Thompson, and Stub Rowley.

As per usual, matches with the Yakima Junior College marked the beginning of the season. The first of the series came out a 4-4 tie; whereas in a return match at Yakima "in a gale," JC won the second of the series.

TENNIS

In the following week, a traveling Whitworth college tennis team received a severe trouncing by a 6-1 score at CWC.

The annual coast trip took the team to Bellingham, for two matches, and thence to Seattle to the tennis club, and from there to Portland. In Portland they played Multnomah college, Lewis and Clark Junior college in Vancouver, and participated in the Senior Day program at Portland University.

The conference meet was held in Cheney, and was the last trip of the season. Due to the early publication date of the HYAKEM, it is impossible to give you the outcome of this meet, but with the doubles combinations of Whitfield and Clayton, and Spaulding and Breedlove, it looks like a repeat in the winning of the conference tennis meet for CWC.

GOLF

With only two of the members of last year's team back in school at the opening of spring quarter, Coach Nicholson was skeptical of his team's chances with such teams as St. Martin's and Pacific Lutheran College. However, with the appearance of Mary Jane Gilkey, women's golf champion last year at the University of Washington, things looked brighter.

As in the past years, matches were scheduled with St. Martin's, P. L. C., Bellingham, and the local golf teams. The school also sent players to the conference meet at Cheney.

The two members who came back from last year's team are Jack Spithill and "Windy" Hildebrand. The new members are Bill Sanders, Bill "Hank" Robertson, and Jack Lusk. With this group and Miss Gilkey, prospects for the season looked favorable.

The CAMPUS CRIER, student newspaper is published weekly, and weekly students sit in the Administration building and read it.

PUBLICATION

HYAKEM

The HYAKEM staff was divided into two groups this year—those mounting pictures, and those securing copy. Betty Camozzy served as Art Editor for the annual, and in addition to designing the cover, helped in mounting pictures and securing write-ups. Rebecca Thomas, Kathleen Chapman, and Wanda Carrell served on the classes committee. Cornelia Anderson proved to be much help by serving in any capacity necessary. Miss Bullard, of the English Department, acted as adviser for all copy in the annual. Phyllis Downey, Celeste Hayden Jackie Laws, and Ralph Manzo wrote much of the copy for the book. Madelyn Waltz served as Circulation Manager. Much credit for the annual also goes to the many other students who furnished information and copy if called upon to do so. These people are: Loren Troxel, Mel Haller, Jim Adamson, Marvin Schroeder, and Jack Lusk.

HYAKEM

This year the HYAKEM has aimed at closer cooperation with other publications of CWC. A definite program of exchanging cuts and copy was worked out. The morgue, compiled by the CAMPUS CRIER staff, proved of value to all the publication groups.

The HYAKEM staff had new problems to face this year in light of the present world situation. It proved difficult to secure labor in the printing of the book, and a strike at Western Engravers in Seattle retarded the progress of the HYAKEM.

Bonnie Stevens was Editor of the HYAKEM this year, and was assisted by Joe Clayton, Assistant Editor and Photographer. Much of the success of the publication of the annual is due to the close cooperation between these two. Ardys Redman, a Junior from Ellensburg, served in the capacity of Advertising Manager. A new office, that of Business Manager, was filled by Margaret Scott. The Business Manager had charge of the arrangements for taking pictures, and served as a secretary to the Editor. Mr. Hogue was the official adviser for the HYAKEM, and again much credit for the book is due to his advise and guidance. Eleanor Mitchell, staff member, worked on various assignments throughout the year.

CAMPUS CRIER STAFF MEMBERS

CAMPUS CRIER staff members look back upon a year crowded with activity. Through working in various capacities, participating in the weekly staff meetings, copyreading, proof reading, covering news beats, working on makeup and other details, they have learned much.

A401 was the scene of many a coke party as CWC journalists relaxed. A special treat was the Publications Party at which members of the CRIER, CW SEER, and HYAKEM staffs relaxed during spring term.

CAMPUS CRIER

With Dr. Donald MacRae as adviser and Herb Legg as editor, the CAMPUS CRIER was edited this year by a rotating editorial board. The autumn term board was composed of Maryon Cotton, Hal Berndt, and Loren Troxel. Winter editorships were filled by Don Engbretson and Marie Pappas. The spring term editorial group consisted of Betty Lou Baker, Leah Colwell, Ida Kehl, Marie Pappas, Stanley Mataya, and Roy Patrick Wahle. Assistant editor throughout the year was Ora Brons. Elva Schmel and Betty Love were business managers, assisted by Catherine Sperry and Betty Humes. Staff workers deserving special recognition are Gwen Graves, John Shrader, and Donna Keogh.

In addition to the usual functions of a newspaper in portraying the passing parade, this year the CAMPUS CRIER aimed at being a more dynamic unifying force on the campus.

Full cooperation was given the governing body of the Associated Students in many projects, including the revision of the student charter. A spring project was a series of weekly meetings with campus leaders to discuss editorial policies. A defense editorship was established to grant full help in CWC defense needs. Full cooperation with the HYAKEM and CW SEER existed at all times. A charter membership in the Washington Intercollegiate Press Association marks a signal step in Washington journalism.

PRESS CONFERENCE

The Washington Intercollegiate Press Conference was held in Ellensburg the week end of May 15th and 16th. Delegates from WWC, EWE, St. Martin's, and CWC attended. Officers elected for 1942-1943 were Harry Bay, St. Martin's, President; Kay Frenton, EWC Vice-President; and Berniece Shelhammer, WWC, Recording Secretary. The fall quarter conference will be held at St. Martin's. The advisers of school publications will be invited to attend this meeting.

CW SEER

1941 brought a revision in the freshman handbook, the CW SEER. The 1942 staff under the advisorship of Helen Minerva Elworthy, the Dean of Women, has endeavored to continue the policy established at that time. The CW SEER contains that which is deemed important for the freshman as a guide to the traditions, customs, activities, organizations and accepted practices on the campus and that which will serve as a reminder for the older students. It is written for students by students and is a true representative of college life. Marie Pappas is Editor of the 1942 CW SEER.

STUDENT LEADERS CONFERENCE

The week end of January 9th and 10th saw the gathering of 25 student leaders from seven different colleges in the State of Washington. Sessions were held at which open discussions of different problems of individual schools were considered. The conference ended with a banquet followed by a basketball game with St. Martin's, and a dance.

The student leaders conference was an outgrowth of a press conference held at WWC fall quarter. At this time the Washington Intercollegiate Press Conference was organized, and the following officers elected:

President.....	John Esvelt, EWC
Vice-President.....	Eric Phillips, WWC
Recording Secretary.....	Bonnie Stevens, CWC

A spring meeting of the press conference was held at CWC May 16th.

CPS—Jim Paulson, AS Pres.; CWC—Roy Wahle, AS Pres., Marie Fitzgerald, AWS Pres., Marian Nims, AS Sec., Jim Bow, Soc. Comm. AS, Loren Troxel, Serg.-at-arms AS, Eldon Lockett, Frosh Rep., Pete Ashenfelter, Frosh Pres., Victor Guns, Jr. Pres., Herb Legg, Editor the Campus Crier, and Bonnie Stevens, Editor the Hyakem; EWC—Doug. Eustace, AS Pres., Virginia Aucutt, AWS Pres., Betty Owen, AWS Soc. Comm., and John Esvelt, Editor the Journal; PLC—Olaf Sola, AS Pres., Nadine Fridline, AWS Pres., Ruth Bengston, Sec. AS, Merle Palmer, Editor the Mooring Mast, and Martie Hoff; St. Martin's—Martin Pressentin, AS Pres., and Francis Hausmon, Sec. AS; Whitworth, Karl Cline, AS Pres.; WWC—Eric Phillips, Editor the WW Collegian, and Mikey Smith.

CLUBS

MUNSON HALL

A welcome party which included the Off-Campus men was first on the Munson Hall social calendar. Homecoming activities were featured by a skit at Stunt Night, a float in the parade, and a welcoming sign. Caroling by the entire group was the highlight of the annual Christmas party.

Fall quarter the men played host to the girls of Kamola Hall at a fireside and likewise entertained the girls of Sue Lombard during winter quarter.

The annual Men's Faculty Breakfast on May 17, completed the headlining events of the year's social calendar.

KAMOLA HALL

The annual welcoming party started everyone off in a jovial mood, and Homecoming brought back familiar friends and faces to many.

An enjoyable Christmas party, at which seven engagements were announced, closed the fall quarter.

Concluding the year was a breakfast for the graduating Kamola girls.

Homecoming activities were the highlight of Fall quarter for Sue girls this year, as they walked off with second prize for the best float and second prize for the best sign. A tea for the alumni was another activity sponsored by the girls of Sue during Homecoming week end.

A popular Winter quarter social was the all-girl party with a "come-as-are" theme. An added feature of the party was a birthday cake in honor of Mrs. Lula Rainey, their house-mother.

Sue's big annual spring formal on April 18th completed the social calendar for the year.

The first WAA playnight revealed an abundance of enthusiastic sportswomen who made V stand for vim and volleyball all during autumn quarter. Basketball and badminton were the winter quarter activities which give potential members an opportunity to qualify . . . high standards helped make WAA a strictly sportswomen's club . . . twenty-five new recruits were initiated at the candlelight ceremony and military banquet highlighted winter quarter. Softball with four o'clock turnouts was the club favorite for spring quarter. The traditional camping trip climaxed a successful and eventful club year.

SIGMA MU EPSILON

The major activity of the year for the campus music organization was the presentation of student recitals in the College Elementary School Auditorium. Club members offered a great variety of solo and ensemble numbers for the enjoyment of the student body and townspeople.

The organization sponsored a record hour each week for students interested in listening to the recordings owned by the music department. Comments on the music played were given by the person in charge.

The club continued the maintenance of the music library for the use of the student body, assisted in the Central Washington Music Festival for high school students, and held receptions for guest musicians on the campus.

Sigma Mu Epsilon became affiliated with the Washington State Federation of Music Clubs and assisted in the state convention of the Federation held in Ellensburg, April 22-24.

This year the programs of the regular meetings consisted of lecture-demonstrations by members of the music faculty.

KAPPA DELTA PI

Delta Omicron, Central Washington College Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education, this year completed a half-decade of existence on the local campus.

In recognizing and encouraging high intellectual and scholastic standards at CWC, the chapter elected to membership two groups of pledges bringing the total of initiates in Delta Omicron to 150 since the chapter was installed.

Two local Kadelpians, Loren Troxel and Maryon Cotton, attended the national convocation of the Society in San Francisco.

The year's activity included the sponsorship of a recognition tea, a Homecoming luncheon, two pledge breakfasts, two all-college book reviews, a final banquet, assistance in Senior Day, and a final banquet.

HERODOTEANS

The Herodoteans, the History honorary, conducted a program this year which included two forums and a radio program. All of these were carried out with the help of the faculty, community, and student leaders.

A delegation was sent to the Northwest International Relations Clubs Conference, held on the University of Washington Campus. Marie Pappas, one of the delegates, was elected recording secretary for next year's conference.

Elva Schmel, the president, left school during winter quarter, and her place was filled by Ilene Wood.

WHITBECK CLUB

The Whitbeck is primarily for geography majors and minors, with others participating who are interested in geography. This year Dr. Samuelson and Miss Michaelson were the speakers at a regular club meeting. Meetings were held regularly at the home of Dr. Shaw, club adviser; in the social line, the first meeting of each quarter was set aside as party night.

The club's primary interest is to band together people who are interested in the field of geography; in this goal this club is truly successful.

KAPPA PI

Featuring its spring art bazaar as one of the most outstanding events of the year, the Alpha Beta chapter of Kappa Pi has done a great deal to promote art at CWC. The bazaar was unique in origin. Every member, provisional member, and pledge contributed at least two pieces of work, many of which were sold.

Alpha Beta chapter has the record of being the first Pacific Coast chapter of the national art honorary, Kappa Pi, to be established. All during the year the organization has succeeded in upholding its standards of productive artistic work among students in colleges and universities and furthering the interest of art in the broadest sense of the term.

MASKERS AND JESTERS

Under the guidance of Mr. Russell L. Lembke, head of the drama department, the Maskers and Jesters club had an active year. Some of the club activities of the year were: ushering at various plays, parties for club members, a banquet at which Mr. Lembke and new club officers were honored, and the sponsoring of the Bowery Ball—a dance presented during the spring quarter amid checkered tables, would-be Lillian Russells, and other gay-ninety features.

IYOPTIANS

Each year at the annual Mother's Day Banquet twenty girls from the Freshman class are announced as new members of the Iyoptian Club. This organization is a sophomore honorary service club, which this year introduced the "Big Sister" plan to our campus. In this way Freshman women and transfer students were made to feel that they were a part of the life of CWC. Other activities of the club are: sponsoring firesides for the Freshman women and transfers, assisting at Homecoming, the Mother's Day activities, Commencement, the formal dances, and ushering at the school plays and assemblies.

A great deal of the success of the club should be attributed to the inspirational influence of the club adviser, Miss Louise Brakel.

INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHTS

The Claw Chapter, Intercollegiate Knights, has completed its sixth year of outstanding service to the school. The men of "Service" have proven of great assistance in many fields.

The Claw Chapter had complete charge of the election and coronation of the Homecoming Queen, and in addition to the many other duties of the week end of festivity, they held their own alumni breakfast.

Policing sport events, lining the field, setting up bleachers, parking cars, assisting with Senior Day, The Central Washington School Music Festival and other school events were routine duties.

CRIMSON "W" CLUB

The outstanding achievement of the "W" club for the year 1941-1942 was the dedication of Tomlinson Field in memory of the late Jack Tomlinson.

Other activities during the fall quarter were the sponsoring and distributing of line up programs for home football games, and the compiling of a booklet describing the history of basketball at CWC since 1929, which was presented to the Associated Students as a gift.

Winter quarter saw the postponement of the annual all-college smoker due to the small number of male students.

Project for the spring quarter was the handling of defense stamp sales for MacArthur Day. As a final event the "W" club sponsored a picnic for all the sports participants.

THE OFF-CAMPUS WOMEN IN ACTIVITIES 1941-1942

Outstanding in many college activities on the campus this year was the OCW organization. Sponsored for all girls not living in the dormitories, the club's activities were participated in by the majority of its 160 members.

A busy and enjoyable year began with the fall business and social meetings held during Freshman Week. Even the Freshman girls who emerged with pig tails tied in green ribbon and red mercurochrome noses had a swell time!

OCW won first prize for the best Homecoming float and, in cooperation with the OCM, a first prize for a Homecoming sign.

Winter quarter found the OCM entertained with an informal party. The annual banquet held in February at the N. Y. Cafe provided food and fun for all. Lee Johnson was awarded a scholarship based upon outstanding service to the club, campus activities, and scholarship.

As spring approaches each year, the OCW's fancy turns to the May Prom. This year was no exception, and need more be said than—soft lights—heavenly music—fragrant flowers—

A group meeting was held each quarter in order that all would have an opportunity to participate in the club. New projects included: selling of football men made of red and black yarn, selling candy to earn money to improve the lounge, selling of Defense Stamps and bonds in which OCW led all residence groups, and a Red Cross knitting group.

The Association for Childhood Education is a national organization, of which the Meisner chapter is established on our campus. The purpose of this organization is chiefly to promote the progressive type of education in nursery schools, kindergarten, and primary grades, and to raise the standards of teacher training. It is composed largely of students interested in kindergarten-primary education, and this year has been particularly active in rendering services to educational organizations.

NEWMAN CLUB

This year has found the Newman club very active here at CWC. Many new and interesting projects have been started and successfully carried out.

The Newman club is a Catholic club of culture and fellowship, fostering the spiritual, intellectual, and social interests of Catholic students on the campus. Some of the outstanding activities of the year included a weekly study club, the monthly Communion Breakfasts, Friday morning Mass, a special Retreat, a hay ride, picnic, and parties. Also this year the Newman club Foundation was established as was a library shelf in the CWC library.

The club had the honor this year of presenting two John Henry Newman Honor Keys. One was to our adviser, Miss Hebel, and the other to our president, Roy Wahle. This was the first time presentations of this kind have been made in the CWC Newman club.

We feel as though we have a very successful year and hope to continue this way in the future.

One fine spring day, Joe Clayton, HYAKEM photographer, decided to snap some pictures of CWC students. As the students were unaware of what was taking place, they were unprepared for the results of Joe's picture taking. At Hickeys, familiar college hangout, he found Helen Hill, Gloria Copenhefer, and Greg FitzGerald indulging in cokes and arguing about this matter and that. And going over to the college library, Clif Alford and Betty Cady were most certainly surprised when their picture was snapped while they were working at the card catalogue. Then Joe realized it was three o'clock and mail time, and returned to the Ad building to take a picture of Buster Morris receiving a letter from his wife.

This is one of the unusual shots taken by Mr. Hogue this year. The tower of the Ad building is a familiar scene, but can you figure out from where the picture was taken?

SOCIAL

HOMECOMING

In a definite attempt at making the 1942 Homecoming a real one, the Associated Students pointed all efforts at strengthening alumni-under-grad relations. Planning placed an emphasis on tradition and traditional events.

Under the direction of Senior Loren Troxel as general chairman the festivities were carried on as smoothly as any in past years. Stunt night took on a new note of hilarity with between-the-acts patter. The Frosh bonfire was "bigger and better than ever." Proceeding through the rally, the parade, and the game, Homecoming came to a climax in the banquet and dance.

Marjorie White, Sophomore from Wapato, was crowned queen, with Helen Hill and Billie Earlywine, as princesses.

Banquet talks were given by Dean O. H. Holmes, as the college representative, and Wayne Roberg and Lannes Purnell, as alumni representatives.

Winners in Homecoming competitions were: Sign, Off-Campus Clubs, first; Sue Lombard, second; Float, Off-Campus Women, first; Sue Lombard, second; Stunt, Dance Club, first; ACE second.

Among the special organizations activities were those sponsored by the IK's, Kappa Delta Pi, Sue Lombard, and ACE.

BARN DANCE

Every one, including faculty and students, could be found at the annual Barn Dance; however everyone was not recognized. A contest was held to pick the local Daisy Mae and 'Lil Abner. Miss Donna Freeman won the title as Daisy Mae for her costume. Vic Forsythe was chosen as 'Lil Abner.

A milk drinking contest was staged during the evening, and Charlotte Gaze, a freshman, was the winner. Loren Troxel presented the toughest beard while Hal Berndt had the blackest and Ray Jongeward showed the weakest growth.

At the Colonial Ball Dr. McConnell could be seen crowning Barbara Williams as Queen of the event, and amid an array of brightly colored formals and fragrant flowers, Gregory FitzGerald found the opportunity to take these and other pictures of the Ball.

SNOWBALL

A record crowd circled the floor at the fall tolo. The Slide-Inn Ski lodge was used effectively as a setting. Pink and blue lights, silver stars, snow, Christmas trees, and a novel ski hut as a punch booth made the atmosphere complete for a festive holiday scene.

CUPID'S INFORMAL

Red and white hearts and crepe paper decorated the old gym for the Cupid's Informal the day before Valentine's Day. Marjory White served as chairman of the decorations committee.

The boys dated the girls for this dance. Atmosphere was lent by the name of the dance and by the season. Guests entered the ballroom through a large red heart. The punch was served from a red and white booth. A record crowd rhumbaed to the music of the Rhythms Jugglers. L. G. Carmody served as chairman of the dance.

MAY PROM

The scene of the May Prom was in the tropics. Couples stepped off a ship onto a tropical island which turned out to be the ballroom. At intermission the harmonettes—Shirley Blanchard, Dora Brehm, and Muriel Hogue added to the atmosphere with their tropical music.

Winifred Harrel as general chairman appointed the following committees: Decorations, Pat Stevens and Maryalice Phelps; Programs, Pegge Charlton and Barbara German; Punch, Jo Colwell and Lucille Hunt; Publicity, Rosemary Bunker and Leah Colwell; Intermission, Elizabeth De Monbrun; Invitations, Cornelia Anderson; Furniture, Mary Barnes. Again credit goes to the off-campus women for another successful spring formal.

The Sue Lombard formal proved a great success this year. Hall president, Barbara Lum was seen dancing with AS Social Commissioner, Vic Forsythe. At the Colonial Ball, members of Miss Kane's dance class took time out to perform a colonial dance for Colonial Ball Queen, Barbara Williams.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT DANCES

In spite of an even more unbalanced wall space than in normal times, the Wednesday night dances have proved very successful during this past year. Thanks to a syncopating, swaying orchestra all who attended the regular Wednesday night dances found fun and music to their tastes.

A novelty dance was dedicated one evening to Mr. Paul Blackwood, who was chosen as black-out man from Central Washington College.

During the year coat racks, a much needed item, were purchased by the Associated Student Body for use at the Wednesday night dances.

COLONIAL BALL

On the evening of March 7, the College Dining Hall became a ballroom. Miss Barbara Williams, the queen chosen by secret ballot for the occasion, was crowned at intermission by Dr. R. E. McConnell. The traditional minuet was danced for the queen at intermission.

Vic Forsythe as social commissioner of the Associated Student Body acted as General Chairman. Eleanor Mitchell acted as chairman of the decorations committee, assisted by Maryalice Phelps and Mary Barnes.

WILL YOU READ THIS MESSAGE . . .

The policy behind our store is to be of real service to the public—to have only such merchandise as we can honestly advise you to buy, for your sake rather than ours, to ask only such prices as are fair to you. Won't you make our store your headquarters while in Yakima. Use our phone, leave your bundles here, you'll like the friendly spirit of our employees.
